SPECIFICATIONS

Clear Motion Rate is Samsung's more comprehensive and accurate way of measuring TV motion performance than the previously used Hz measurement. The previous system only measured the refresh rate of a TV panel. A TV's ability to deliver clear motion clarity goes beyond a panel's refresh rate. A CMR measurement is achieved by calculating the TV chipset and the backlight in addition to the panel's refresh rate resulting in a more realistic motion clarity metric. Simply put, the higher the CMR the clearer the picture quality.
